BIO:

Vicki Zgodny is a highly respected litigator with experience in both government and private practice. Her practice focuses on complex commercial disputes, family law, government investigations, and civil rights litigation under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Ms. Zgodny is known for her practical and creative solutions and guidance on the most difficult litigation challenges.

She has served as lead or second-chair counsel in eight federal jury trials during her practice in New York City. Through this experience and over the course of her practice, she frequently resolves matters through negotiation, mediation, and arbitration in her clients' favor. Vicki is also a certified Mediator through Utah Dispute Resolution.

Before joining Clyde Snow, she represented the City of New York in federal and state courts and later practiced at a nationally ranked firm in Salt Lake City. Vicki holds a J.D. from New York Law School and a B.A. in international relations from the University of Wisconsin–Madison.
